REG BOOTH, DOUG PRITCHARD RE-ELECTED

Winners!

DEPUTY-REEVE
DOUG PRITCHARD

REEVE
REG. BOOTH

Anson, Hindon and Minden voters trooped to the polls last Monday to call on Reeve Reg Booth for his second two-year term as Reeve. In winning all but two of the nine polls, Mr. Booth garnered 563 votes, a comfortable 119 votes more than his opposition, Bill O'Brien. Some 1,033 electors or 21.79 per cent of the eligible voters cast their ballots in an election that also saw Deputy-reeve Doug Pritchard retain his seat, but by a margin of just 76 votes over challenger Shirley Brandon. Heading the polls for councillor was Alan (Cub) Coneybeare, re-elected with a whopping 531 votes.

Trailing him by close to 90 votes, but placing second was newcomer Mrs. Helen Johnson with 442 votes, while Bob Gorrie was re-elected with a substantial 424 votes. Returned as school trustees with 809 and 800 votes apiece were Len Lonsberry and Lloyd Johnson.

Although excitement ran high during the brief election campaign, voter turnout could only be described as 'average'.

Election night saw the Minden council chambers packed with candidates, voters and their wives, husbands and children.

With the final results known, Reeve Booth spoke briefly to the gathering and after thanking his supporters called on all election participants to let bygones be bygones 'and work together in the difficult times ahead'.

Across the county the biggest election surprise was the defeat of Roy Brohm by Lloyd Coneybeare by a margin of just 17 votes in the Dysart contest for Deputy-reeve. Retiring this year as Dysart Reeve, Mr. Brohm sought the office of Deputy-reeve while 1974 Deputy-reeve and County Warden, Murray Fearrey moved into the office of

In Stanhope Reeve Sinc Nesbitt waltzed to a commanding victory over challenger Fred Brooks, 432 votes to 262, as did Snowdon Reeve Bob Vick who polled almost 100 votes more than his nearest rival.

(For more election coverage see Pages 7, 12 & 15).

Women's Institute meet

The Women's Institute spent a delightful afternoon at the Hyland Crest Auditorium on Nov. 20th. As soon as the Pres., Mrs. M. Sears had dispensed with all the business, the remainder of the meeting was interspersed with a program of contests and songs. The Roll Call of Grandmothers' saying or verse was answered by 28 members. The contests were won by Mrs. Allan Taylor for smallest feet, Mrs. G. Kendall for Birthday in hidden year, Mrs. P. Robinson for having her own teeth and Mrs. W. Walker for having worn glasses the longest.

Mrs. P. Clarke played the piano while Mrs. C. Lazler, Mrs. P. Robinson and the president led in a sing-song of old favourites. Mrs.

bers. Identification of stolen property is a must, say police.

Sears had a poem and Mrs. Moore gave a reading on grandmothers past and present. At the close of the meeting a delicious lunch was served by the hostesses. The December meeting will be a Christmas Party and will be held in the United Church Hall on Dec. 18 at 7.30. All ladies are cordially invited to join us.

Increase Clerk-Administrator's salary

Election campaigning for some candidates ground briefly to a halt last Saturday morning as members of Anson, Hindon and Minden council met and voted to increase the remuneration of Clerk-Administrator Richard Parisotto to $16,900. This figure had been offered unanimously by council to Mr. Parisotto at its regular meeting November 13.

If council had not met Saturday, it would not have been able to fulfill this commitment but would have had to refer it to next year's council.

'This was discussed at the time and agreed to', said Reeve Peg Booth. 'I feel Richard certainly does a good job and deserves it'. Mr. Parisotto originally agreed to become the Clerk in Minden in May, 1970 with a reduction in pay of $4,200.

At the time his income was $11,400. The percentage increase in his salary during the past 5 years has been approximately 9-1/2% per annum.

The recorded vote on the by-law had Reeve Booth and Councillors Coneybeare, Gorrie and Brandon voting in favour and Deputy-reeve Pritchard reversing his original position and opposing the by-law.

Accident-free week

For the first time this year Haliburton County has experienced a full week without one single reported traffic accident.

Mind you, while OPP of the County's Minden Detachment aren't sure why this should be, they are content with it and, as Safe Driving Week in Canada got under way last Sunday, their faces were wreathed in smiles. 'Let's keep it this way', commented one officer.

On the other hand, 45 general occurrences were reported during that same period which involved among other things minor thefts from cars and private property plus the theft of three rifles from area cottages and homes.

The OPP strongly recommend that all persons take the time to record the model and serial numbers of their valuables, including tools, guns and appliances. Then, if any of these items are ever stolen it will be readily possible to identify them by means of the recorded num-

Corinne Gaudet models a washable dress from Canadian Designer Showcase, a fashion show sponsored by bleach substitute Borateem-Plus which is touring Canada this summer. The show features easy-care garments from seven of Canada's best-known designers. The garment Corinne shows is a washable polyester halter dress with stitched pleats by Pat McDonagh.

Designers tell how to beat rising clothes cost

EVERYONE has an opinion on new fashions but little is controversial about the new fabrics designers are giving us. They're definitely "in". Polyester with the look of expensive slub linens or homespun cotton, dacron doubling for fine Swiss cotton, nylon knits draping and feeling like French silk knits — all these and more show more than a touch of elegance hiding down-to-earth practicality.

This year, bleach substitute Borateem-Plus sponsored a touring fashion show featuring washables by major Canadian designers. The show played cities from Vancouver to St. John's.

Called "Canadian Designer Showcase" the show featured interviews with designers Marilyn Brooks, Pat McDonagh, Tom d'Aurio, Linda Verdoni, Hugh Garber, Toby Klein and Claire Haddad. The designers spoke about fashions' current trends, and models showed a boutique collection from each designer's summer line.

A central theme of all the interviews is that designers today have practicality in mind. Tom d'Aurio, for instance, believes that women now look for a dress that can be washed out and hung up to dry overnight.

Designers are conscious that clothes that must be dry-cleaned will add many dollars to your wardrobe costs. Since clothes themselves will cost more this year, a result of both fabric shortages and increased labor costs, it's only sensible to try and keep those maintenance costs low to avoid bursting your budget, the designers say.

The designers advise consumers to select garments carefully for basic appeal and multi-occasion use and to check out those labels for care instructions before buying.

Safe Driving Week

TORONTO-- The Ministry of Transportation and Communications urges Ontario motorists to support Safe Driving Week in Canada, December 1 to 7. Safe Driving Week is sponsored by the Canada Safety Council.

While we would like to make every week a safe driving week in Ontario, it is important to support the Canada Safety Council's campaign because of the good results achieved in previous years. In 1972, for example, there were just 53 traffic deaths in Canada during Safe Driving Week, considerably lower than the national weekly average death toll of 110. 993 people died on Ontario roads in 1973. Many of these could have been prevented if motorists had taken a few simple safety precautions such as fastening seat belts, refusing to drink and drive, and by reducing speeds on wet slippery winter roads. The number of fatal motor vehicle accidents and the number of traffic deaths in Ontario during the first six months of 1974 are down by 10 per cent over the same period last year. Driving defensively and following the rules of the road during Safe Driving Week and throughout the holiday season will help reduce the number of highway tragedies for all of 1974.

INWARD OR OUTWARD

7th in a Series

The article 'This Hollow Earth' for this week, will appear in this column next week, as something has come to my attention which to me seems to belong with last week's article on Planet X. That was about astronomers and scientists who look outward into the darkness of space searching our solar system and the universe we live in for knowledge and for the meaning of our existence; how we have come to be on this planet, what is our origin.

As cosmologists are looking outward, physicists are looking for the same answers in an inward direction; looking for new bodies that make up the atom. Throughout our present day history, various scientists have time and time again tried to draw an analogy between the construction of the atom and the construction of our solar system, without success. As new information comes to light in one field there always seems to be a contradiction in the other. They seem to always be out of step. Which of the two fields is looking in the right direction? The inward looking group, the outward looking group, or possibly are they both looking in the same direction.

This article appeared in 'TIME' magazine, December 2, 1974:

'I've got some very exciting physics to tell you,' said M.I.T. physicist Samuel Ting earlier this month as he entered the office of Burton Richter, a Stanford University physicist. 'Listen,' Richter interrupted, 'I've got some exciting physics to tell YOU.' In fact, the two researchers, working independently and a continent apart, had almost simultaneously made an important discovery: a totally new type of subatomic particle that could upset prevailing ideas about the basic nature of matter.

Physicists have already discovered some 200 elementary particles, usually by smashing apart nuclei of atoms in huge accelerators. Most of the particles live for only a tiny fraction of a second before they decay into more stable atomic components like electrons. Until now, all of these particles have occupied predictable places in what physicists jocularly call their subnuclear 'zoo'. The puzzling new discovery is a total misfit. Tentatively called a 'J' particle by Ting's team, which used the 33 billion-electron-volt accelerator at the Brookhaven National Laboratory, and a 'Psi' particle by Richter's group at the two-mile-long Stanford Linear Accelerator, it was the heaviest atomic fragment ever found - almost 3-1/2 times more massive than the proton. It was also, by nuclear standards, extremely long-lived. It survived a full one-hundred billionths of one-billionths of a second, or 1,000 times longer than other massive particles. Excited theorists speculated that the particle could be the long-sought link between two of nature's basic forces, electromagnetism and the so-called nuclear weak force, which shows up in some types of radioactivity. Others suggested that it may be the first member of a whole new family of subatomic particles possessing a new physical property whimsically named 'charm'. If such particles really exist, they would in turn, be made up of a new 'charmed' form of quarks and antiquarks - elusive fragments that have been hypothesized as the basic building blocks of all matter. By week's end that speculation took on dramatic new significance when Richter's team announced the discovery of still another new particle even more massive than the original Psi (or J) and said the hunt was on for others.

As a footnote to this article, recently a young anthropology assistant, Alemayehu Asfaw has found in Ethiopia's remote Awash Valley embedded in rock, a fossilized jaw bone and teeth which have been classified as coming from a Homo sapiens, which is modern man, and which have been dated as more than three million years old. The geographic area of this find also points out the fact that the so-called cradle of many may have begun in Arabia, and not Africa, as believed before.

Once again, as new information comes forth we find that we have been on earth longer than was previously thought.

Elections

They're all over for another two years, but those same two years pose what could be one of the most critical periods in the history of Haliburton County and its member municipalities.

In Anson, Hindon and Minden voters turned to incumbent Reg Booth who defeated his challenger Bill O'Brien by a not insubstantial 116 votes. In fact, a number of election contests across the county were won and lost by far, far narrower margins. Need we look further for an example than Dysart's Roy Brohm who lost to Lloyd Coneybeare by just 17 votes in his bid for the office of Deputy-reeve.

In Minden the council has remained virtually unchanged, with Helen Johnson the lone newcomer and Shirley Brandon out after challenging and losing to Deputy-reeve Doug Pritchard by 76 votes.

In Stanhope Sinc Nesbitt is back as Reeve, as is Bob Vick in Snowdon.

Now is the time for the bitterness and animosities that elections sometimes engender to be put aside. Put aside in the common interest.

We have our reeves, deputy-reeves, councillors and school trustees for the next two years. Now, let's get behind them and help them do the job they sought and won. It could be a tough two years and they'll want all the backing they can get. They've earned and deserve the support of all.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir,
Do enjoy the Progress and have been a subscriber for many years. However the delivery is very poor. For example to-day (Nov. 25) I received the issue for Nov. 21 but the last previous one was Nov. 7. I never receive the paper every week. The paper has improved greatly since it's first publication, now if the delivery was improved it would be great. We have been summer residents for the past 15 years and love the country and the people. Please continue my subscription.

THE ULTIMATE AUTHORITY HAS SPOKEN

Crime

Reports in recent weeks would indicate that crime is rampant in the Village of Haliburton. We hear and read of repeated acts of vandalism at the laundromat, even flags stolen from the Cenotaph, and little or nothing being done about it.

But hold on just one little minute.

A check with the Minden Detachment of the O.P.P. reveals that in actual fact there have been only two cases of vandalism at the Haliburton Laundromat reported to police and in both cases the vandals were caught. If there have been still other acts of vandalism there, they haven't been reported to police. In one case the apprehension of the vandals resulted in some 27 criminal charges being laid against them, including offenses elsewhere.

Flags missing from the Cenotaph? Certainly up to publication time no one had made the slightest effort to report their loss to the police.

Our police can't be expected to catch our crooks and recover our stolen property unless the offenses, thefts, etc., are reported to them immediately, not weeks later.

Let's get with it Haliburton.

Report from Parliament

by William Scott M.P.

In the next few days the House of Commons will begin debate on a government bill that will increase the number of Members in the House. This bill is part of a new approach that is being made to the controversial question of riding re-distribution proposed by the government about two years ago.

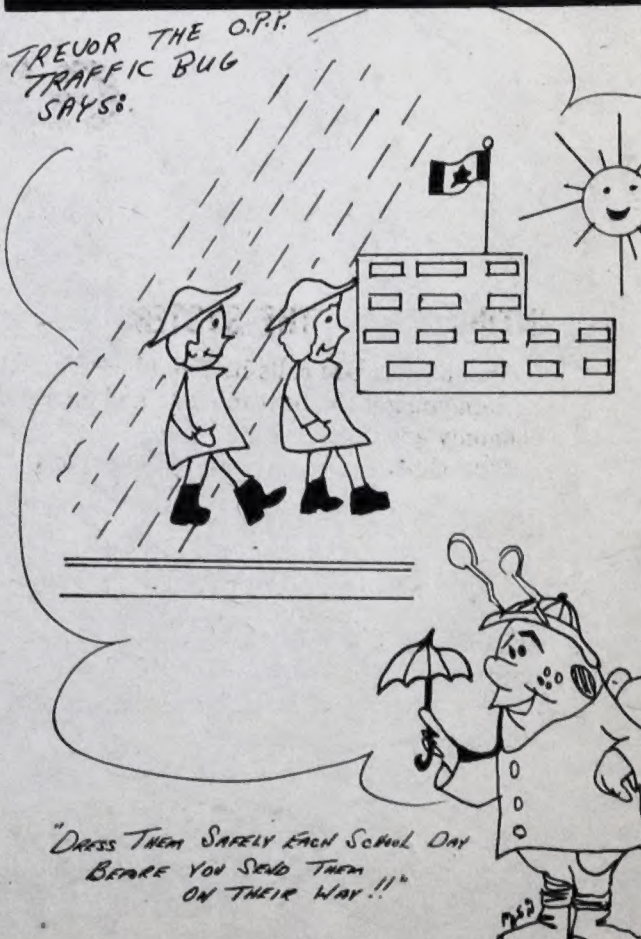

At that time, the government proposed that most ridings in the country be adjusted to bring about a more equitable distribution of population. In other words, while some ridings in urban areas had more than 100,000 constituents, there were ridings in some rural areas that had fewer than 60,000 constituents.

I objected to the government's proposal at that time for several reasons. To begin with, I could not accept a wholesale re-adjustment of riding boundaries that did not take into account the wishes of the people who would be affected. In the case of Victoria-Haliburton, for example, the changes would have altered the whole character of the riding. As it is now, Victoria-Haliburton contains a grouping of people and communities that have common interests, common services and common goals. I pointed out that it would be a serious error to split off a large number of these people from the riding, and replace them with an even larger number of people who live in an area that is totally different, geographically, economically and socially. My main objection to the re-distribution proposal of that time was that it put the cart before the horse. I suggested in this column on January 31st, 1973, almost two years ago, that what we should be considering as a first step in any re-distribution program is an increase in the number of Members of Parliament. I pointed out that the main flaw in the government's proposal was that it was predicated on the number of Members of Parliament remaining the same as at present.

In recent years the population of our country has been growing steadily, to the point where today there are ridings in urban areas, with high population density, where the Member of Parliament has twice as many constituents as some rural ridings. Government is getting more complex, and there are more demands being made on a Member's time. In addition, constituents are calling more and more on their Members to help them with problems. I suggested in that earlier column that people today require more, not less, representation in Parliament, and that it was a serious mistake to consider increasing the number of constituents per member. I pointed out that the House of Commons was designed to accommodate 276 Members without any major physical adjustments, and that is the number that I felt should be sitting in the House today.

The government's bill calls for an increase in Members to 277, and this goes along with my thinking on the matter. At present there are 262 Members from the Provinces, and one each from the territories, for a total of 264. The representation of the territories will remain the same under the new proposal.

Under the provisions of the bill, Ontario would get seven new members, for a total of 95, and Quebec would get one new member for a total of 75. Other provinces would receive new members based on the increase in population as indicated by the 1971 census. It is proposed that the number of Members be increased to 307 in a new re-distribution program following the 1981 census, when the population of Canada is expected to be 24 millions. Once the present increase becomes effective, then riding re-distribution can be done on an equitable basis.

HALL'S LAKE NEWS

by Doreen Stinson

Election excitement is prevalent everywhere it seems.

About 116 voted at Maple Lake on Saturday where the second Advance Poll was held for the Township of Stanhope. Tourists are taking a lively interest in this particular election.

Mr. John N. Broderick, a resident of Hall's Lake for many years, passed away at Hollyday in Florida last Wednesday and will be buried in Windsor today at 2 p.m. The sympathy of this community goes out to his wife 'Scotty' as she was known by her friends.

Mrs. Elsie Bursey spent the week-end in Toronto with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Rawlins, Mrs. Bursey and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Stinson will be attending the wedding of Mr. Ken Rawlins to Miss Leslie Wadsworth on December 14th at Metropolitan United Church and Reception at the Inn on the Park, in Toronto. Ken is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Rawlins.

A good turn-out at the Hyland Crest regular Auxiliary meeting last Monday was encouraging and a Spring Fashion Show is something we can look forward to at the Home. Members are busy Christmas Shopping for the Party for the residents and the financial results of the Bazaar and Boutique sales were most gratifying. New members were welcomed and it is nice to see men taking such an interest.

Miss Bonnie Stinson and Mr. George Holliday spent the week-end with her parents. Mount Forest is having snow so Hall's Lake was a change for them. Club 35 members are planning a gala New Year's Eve Party and new decorations are being purchased and good food planned. It is hoped that all members will contact the Club Executive of their desire for tickets in advance so they will not be disappointed later on. Leonard Stinson is recuperating after a trip to Peterboro Civic Hospital where he had his left shoulder treated. Friends and neighbours and Rev. Douglas Brown have been very good about visiting and telephoning to ask for his welfare.

GM HAS IT NOW

WHY WAIT?

INTRODUCING 'THE SYSTEM'

That's what GM calls it. The idea? To make certain you get the best mileage and operating economy possible.

Plus cleaning up the air for everyone.

HOW DID GM DO IT?

First their engineers developed a dramatically different catalytic converter exhaust system and high energy electronic ignition.

They added fast warm-up carburetion plus steel belted radial tires.

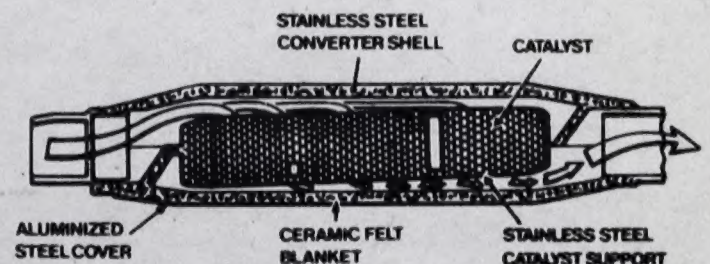

RESULT

A maximum mileage system that gives new 'highs' in gas economy. (How high, is of course dependent on the way you drive and which GM car you choose.)

Up to 7,500 miles between oil changes.

Up to 22,500 miles of spark plug life.

No points or condenser to replace.

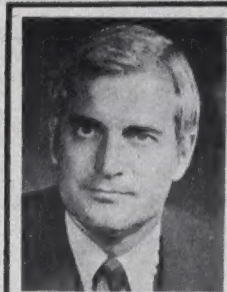

WHY WAIT FOR 1976

Any one of Metro's GM dealer salesmen can give you the entire story. Including the fact that our competitors who already offer a similar system in the U.S., won't have it in Canada 'til 1976.

But buy a GM car and you get "The System" today.

A LOOK AT THE BUDGET

by
John N. Turner
Minister of Finance

We in this country are confronted by two major economic challenges — dealing with persistent, deep-seated inflation and at the same time maintaining a good level of production and employment. This will require us to steer a narrow course if we are to avoid more inflation on the one hand and the risk of a recession on the other. And in doing so, we must also do everything we reasonably can to protect Canadians who are least able to protect themselves from the ravages of both. That is what the budget was all about.

The Canadian economy has firm under-pinnings in consumer buying and capital investment. The real incomes of Canadians continue to improve and employment continues to rise. Unemployment now is lower than a year ago.

But signs of slowing down have appeared in the economy since early summer. Weakening economies abroad have affected our exports, housing construction has declined and work stoppages have caused a serious loss of production. Disappointing harvests in many countries, high commodity prices, and cost escalation at home, have combined to postpone expected relief from high rates of inflation.

The principal threat to the growth of our production and employment comes to us from abroad. Massive balance of payments deficits and surpluses resulting from a fourfold increase of world oil prices are imposing serious strains on the entire world system.

For many developing countries the shortages and high cost of food and fertilizers and the drastically increased prices of energy have raised the spectre of disaster.

Solutions to these problems depend heavily on international co-operation; by action, good counsel and leadership where opportunities are given to us. Canada will do what it can to help resolve them.

With the benefit of measures in this budget, and with no unforeseen deterioration of the economic environment abroad or unforeseen shocks at home, the Canadian economy is expected to grow at a rate of about 4 per cent in 1975.

It is projected that about a quarter of a million new jobs will be created in 1975, on top of some 870,000 jobs created in Canada in the past two years.

A determined effort will be required by all sectors of our society to get inflation down over the next few years. We are striving to get the rate below the two digit level next year.

With these goals in mind, measures were put in the budget to sustain demand by means of tax reductions rather than through an increase in government expenditure. Tax cuts will reduce prices and costs directly or indirectly and increase the take-home pay of Canadians.

Measures were included to restrain the growth in government expenditure and provide selective help to weak points in the economy.

Provision was also made in the budget to sustain business investment since this sector is expected to be a main driving force in the economy in the period ahead. This will also contribute to increasing the supply of goods — so central to dealing with inflation.

The budget also contained measures to help those in our society most vulnerable to inflation.

Our twin goals are to moderate inflation and to achieve sound growth of production and employment. These are the goals which every Canadian supports. It should be clear that in today's circumstances, the achievement of one depends upon the attainment of the other.

In the budget I tried not to understate the challenges which face us. I have not claimed that we can be sure of success, no matter what happens elsewhere. Nor have I pressed any panic buttons, because I am confident that, working together at home and abroad, we can overcome our difficulties.

To the Voters of Lutterworth
THANK YOU!

COMMENTS FROM PERROTT'S PERCH

According to the latest statistics available (1972), the Haliburton Highlands had a total of 597,000 visitors. In that year, they spent a total of 12.8 million dollars which in today's economy would be a considerably higher figure. These figures do not represent dollars spent on sports equipment, private cottages, etc. The breakdown by percentages as to where these dollars were spent is very interesting.

- 31% Food and Beverages - Grocery stores - restaurants - Beverage parlours
- 24% Lodgings - Hotels - Motels - Resorts - Camps
- 20% Retail stores - Department stores - clothing - gift shops - hardware
- 16% Transportation - Gasoline - oil - bus, etc.
- 9% Entertainment and Misc.

Your Chamber of Commerce and its Members are at least instrumental in helping to promote the Haliburton Highlands to prospective visitors. Tourism is our largest resource and everyone can help by supporting Chamber Members who are directly or indirectly helping you.

Bible Sunday

Dec. 8

New bus terminal

THE OMBUDSMAN

As 1974 draws to a close Bible Sunday should be a very meaningful event for all of God's children. To be living in a land which has been blessed beyond measure in comparison to other parts of the Creator's universe is a blessing which altogether too many people take for granted. Why is it that we were not born in the far East where hunger and starvation is the daily menu of countless thousands? Why do these conditions exist in our day of advanced knowledge?

The answer to these questions lie largely in the fact that the Bible came westward with the free flow of pilgrims who sought a home of security and freedom. In the countries where other books have held the people in a meaningless religion, the Lord God has allowed adverse circumstances to prevail. One may not agree that the "Book" has made all the difference, but the fact remains that as the door for its entrance into many of these lands is slowly opening, a new life and hope of survival follows. That there is such a hunger for the "Living Word" is good news to the people who are like the early Christians were, and eager to share the blessings of the Word with others. Perhaps our own freedom from want will be avoided as our heart pours itself out in help to those nations calling for it. The call for Bibles around the world has never been as great and loud. This is a day of opportunity to prove the sincerity of our Christian profession. How we respond to the plea for Bibles and more Bibles from all corners of the globe is an index of our concern for others and not just self. Because of the tremendous need for more Scriptures the Canadian Bible Society requires an extra $100,000 beyond their budget which has been met. That there is such a demand for Scriptures from all corners of the earth in these days of turmoil is phenomenal indeed. Never before in the history of the Church has such days been upon us. But the time is short! What we can do for God must be done now. To-morrow may be too late. The Holy Spirit has opened the door of access into many a closed area and we feel confident that He will also open the hearts of the privileged so that the soul-hungry can read the Word of God.

One Bible sent will bring untold blessings as the following true account would indicate. When a mother of the East heard that her child was going to receive a Bible at school the next day, she followed her child to the entrance and waited until the Book was delivered. As the child came running with the precious treasure the mother burst into tears and then started to read. That same Bible was shared with ten people who took eager turns to read and rejoice in its message.

Why not share such a gift this Christmas season? Your local Bible Society will gratefully acknowledge all donations for income tax purposes. A full count of monies received will be given at a later date. Will you be willing to sacrifice so others can find the Way to Life?

Travelways Ltd. have released details relative to the relocation of the Lindsay Bus Terminal to a new site in the East Ward.

The new, modern facility will begin operation on Sunday, December 1, 1974 and is located at 175 Colborne Street East just west of Verulum Road. Mr. Gerald Stock, President of Stock-Algar Coach Lines Ltd., pointed out that Lindsay is now the headquarters for Travelways Line Route Operations. The new premises which will be company owned and operated will enable the company to consolidate its operations in Lindsay, thus providing better service to the travelling public.

In addition to the Bus Terminal, the new location will accommodate the company's charter and tour departments as well as the general and administration offices. In addition, maintenance and storage facilities for the company's school bus and motorcoach fleet will be located here.

The new terminal will be ultramodern in design with loading bays for four coaches at any one time. Plenty of free parking is available for customers with a separate area designated as a taxi stand.

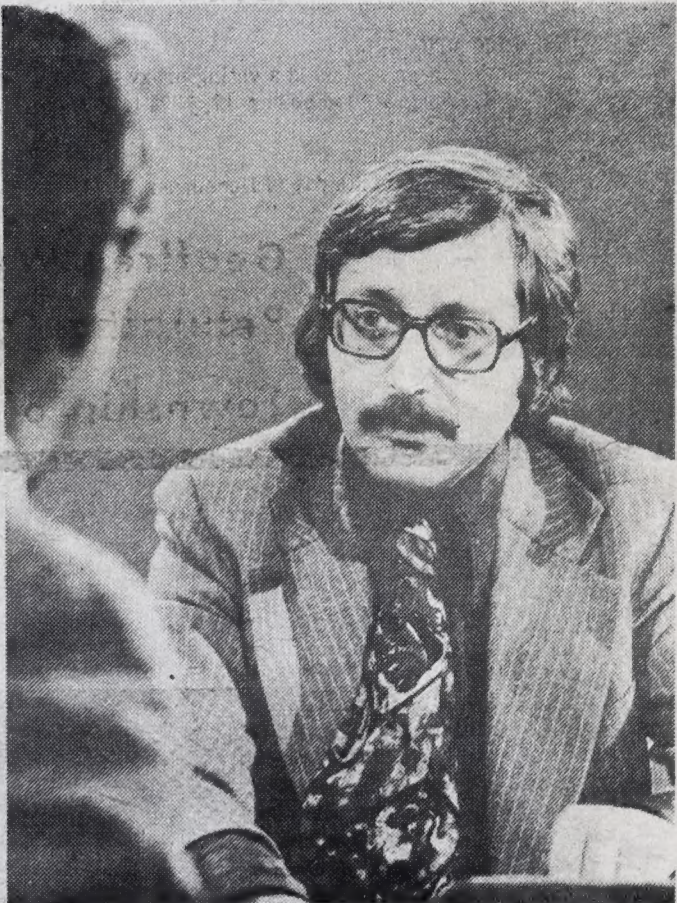

Lindsay Town Council at its Meeting on Monday, November 18th approved an extension to the Town Bus Route serving the East Ward. Commencing Monday, December 2nd, the Lindsay Town Bus Route will operate through the new terminal as part Route. This change does not necessitate any change whatever to the existing routes nor will it involve any significant change in the timing of the Town Bus in other areas of the Town.

Mr. Stock stated that it was intended that the new terminal be a real credit to the Town of Lindsay while enabling the company to provide improved service to its customers. He pointed out that the new premises will be clean, modern and well lit. Air-conditioning and stereophonic background music will provide a pleasant atmosphere. Light lunches and refreshments will be available from modern vending machine installation.

Travelways presently operates 35 return trips per week between Lindsay and Toronto with 14 return trips scheduled weekly between Lindsay, Peterborough and Port Hope. Daily service is also provided between Lindsay and Orillia, Lindsay and the Haliburton Highlands and Lindsay-Bobcaygeon. Convenient connections to points throughout Ontario and beyond are possible at transfer points at Toronto, Peterborough, Port Hope and Orillia.

The new terminal facilities in Lindsay will enable the company to cope effectively with the steadily increasing number of passengers being transported on the various routes operated by the company. Improved Bus Parcel Express facilities are also available at the new location. New routings for coaches from various areas arriving in and departing from Lindsay will be announced in detail next week. However it was revealed that inbound coaches will stop in the downtown area to discharge passengers before proceeding to the Colborne Street East Terminal. Hours of operation of the new Terminal will also be announced shortly.

CBC-TV's popular series The Ombudsman will return for a second season on Sunday evenings this fall, with energetic, concerned Canadians with grievances against officialdom to cut through bureaucratic red tape and resolve their problems.

TODAY'S CHILD

BY HELEN ALLEN

THE TORONTO SUN SYNDICATE

Tommy is a lively, uninhibited eight-year-old — an engaging youngster in both looks and personality.

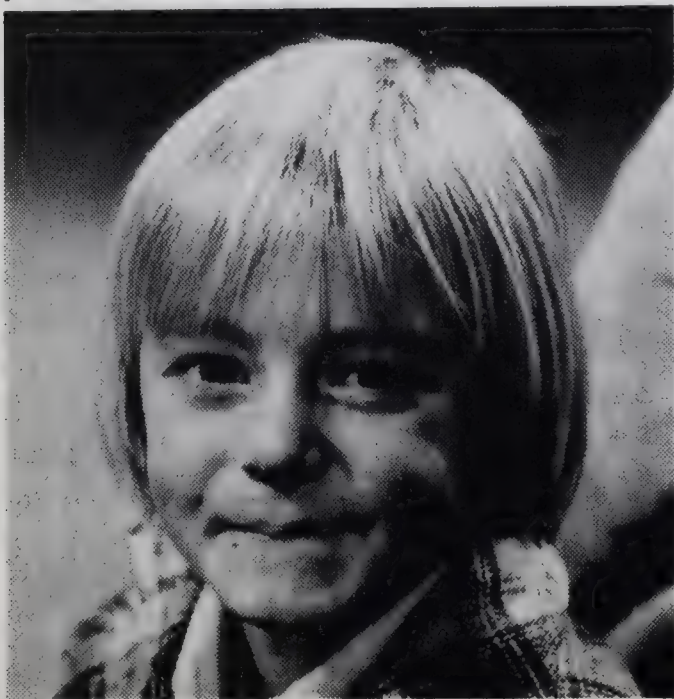

Anglo-Saxon in descent, he is healthy and slim with brown eyes, blonde hair and fair skin.

Tommy craves attention so he prefers the company of older people, either children or adults. Because Tommy was restless and easily distracted he spent longer than usual in kindergarten. Last year he was an average Grade One student, and now, in Grade Two, he loves school. A creative boy, he enjoys drawing and coloring. Tommy is interested in music and is now learning card games and chess. If an eight-year-old can be said to have a hobby, Tommy's would be mechanics.

Tommy loves camping, fishing and swimming. He plays baseball and is planning to join Cubs.

Affectionate Tommy needs much love, along with attention and stimulation. Young involved parents who can be both warm and firm will find him a fine son. Older brothers and sisters (but not younger ones) will be an asset in Tommy's adopting family.

To inquire about adopting Tommy, please write to Today's Child, Ministry of Community and Social Services, Box 888, Station K, Toronto M4P 2H2. For general information, consult your Children's Aid Society.

ABOUT THE TOWN

with Jeanne Sears

We were present at 'Meet the Candidates Night' as reporter. All the candidates spoke well, whether on their past experience or on their plans for the future. The ladies were well represented and asked some questions of interest to all. Several of these questions were in regard to Regional Government and Re-alignment of our County. Chairmen were Richard Parisotto and Dean Elliott (Question period). One thing we noted was that anyone may attend Council Meetings, but you must make an appointment if you have requests to bring to their attention. Some Council Meeting may be planned for evening so that the working man may attend. This was a good way to see and hear the candidates, some of whom you might not know and we felt we should have this for each election as new candidates may then tell their views. At this point the election is over and YOU, the Electors, have made your choice. Hope it was a good one, a progressive, co-operative council to represent you for the next 2 years. This Saturday afternoon another afternoon Christmas tea-bazaar bake sale - this time at the Parish Hall from 2-5. Sincere sympathy to the family and friends of the late Minnie McElwain who died early this week. Several persons from the village won $100 in Olympic Lottery, some of these include May Stevenson, Elsie Sedore, Mike Maher, Bob Arbuthnot and Charles Stevens. Congratulations to the newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Randy Peters (nee Judy Godin) whose wedding was Saturday. On Friday, Dec. 13, you may be able, weather permitting, to see a partial eclipse of the sun, beginning at 9.20 a.m. Be careful to view this carefully, perhaps in a mirror is a safe way. Mr. and Mrs. Mark Vasey have left for a winter in the sunny South and Mr. and Mrs. Sandy Stewart are occupying this home while Vaseys are away. Next Saturday afternoon is also Open House at Cox's Apparel, and you may see their Specials and enjoy a cup of coffee and cookies.

Is this true? When you feel like criticizing the younger generation, just remember who raised them.

At the L.O.B.A. Card Party at the Orange Hall last Monday night, winners were for euchre Pearl Cowen, Mary Cox, Phil Robinson and lone hands Vera Fuller, and for cribbage Joyce Hewitt. Belated good wishes to these residents at the Hyland Crest Home who celebrated birthdays in November, being Edith Alcorn, Gladys Dennis, Jane Fairfield, Pearl Elstone and Lily Redner.

Now we have Highland Travel, a branch of Gell Travel of Lindsay, which opened Monday with Linda Pitts in charge and location is beside Home Hardware.

A new arrival is a baby girl, Amanda Jane, daughter of Cathy and Roger Austen and first grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Austen.

At the weekly Card Party at the Parish Hall winners were for bridge Isobel Harrison for cribbage, Isobel Bingham and Ethel Leigh and for euchre Vera Fuller and Reta Brown.

Home Hardware welcomes visitors on Tuesday, Dec. 10th to see their display of toys and gifts from 7-9 with coffee and cookies for everyone.

Laurene Cook, Heather Harrington, Joyce Hewitt and Nellie Thompson enjoyed the Stanley Home Product Dinner party at Red Carpet Inn in Lindsay last Thursday evening. Did you know if you starch your potholders they keep clean longer and grease doesn't stick to them so much.

Better than gold is a peaceful home,
Where all the fireside characters come,
The shrine of love, the heaven of life,
Hallowed by mother, or sister or wife.
However humble the home may be,
Or tried with sorrow by heaven's decree,
The blessings that never were bought or sold
And centre there, are better than gold.

TODAY'S HEALTH

Exercise well in advance to prepare for winter sports

by David Woods

You wouldn't seriously think of venturing out in winter in an open-necked shirt or blouse, and shorts — now, would you? Not in Canada, anyway.

And yet people who engage in winter sports without proper physical conditioning and preparation are just as exposed and unprotected.

Injuries to skiers, for example, are far less frequent among those who are in good physical shape, assuming, of course, that they're reasonably skilled and have the proper equipment.

Dr. Roy Shephard, a professor of applied physiology at the University of Toronto, says the important thing about preparation for winter sports is to build up to an exercise program gradually — and not just don a pair of skis at the first snowfall, and go zooming off down the nearest hill. That, he says, is the fastest route to pulled muscles and fractures.

Dr. Shephard, who is the author of several articles on sports medicine, also emphasizes that training for winter sports should be specific. In other words, even if you've spent all summer swimming, you won't necessarily be fit for outdoor winter sports.

Part of this specific training, says Shephard, involves knowing about the muscles you're going to be using. For skiing or skating, for example, you'll need to get your ankles and knees ready. The best way to do this is to precondition by walking briskly and regularly, or to jog, during the weeks before it's time to put your skis or skates on.

For skiers in particular, preconditioning should include balancing exercises which, says Dr. Shephard, can be performed by installing a teeter-totter in the basement, or by simply practising balance on a flat piece of wood placed across a log.

An increasingly popular winter sport is snowmobiling, and even though it could hardly be called strenuous, it can certainly be dangerous. In fact, it's probably the most common cause of death and serious injury of all the cold weather recreational activities.

Shephard urges snowmobilers to understand thoroughly the machine's capabilities — and their own; to wear appropriate ear covering, to guard not only against cold, but also against the snowmobile's deafening noise; and never to drink alcohol while driving one of these vehicles. The combination of alcohol and cold outdoor temperatures is doubly dangerous.

So preconditioning for winter sports means exercising the right muscles in advance — and doing it steadily. It should also entail a good understanding of the equipment you'll be using, and the conditions you can expect to face.

This kind of preparation makes good sense from a health standpoint — and will also enhance your enjoyment of winter recreation. And of winter itself.

BARTON, BURKE AND STEWART QUALIFY IN CARLING OPENING

On Sunday afternoon in Peterborough, at Shea's Chemong Lanes, the 1974 Carling O'Keefe Open for the Ontario 5 Pin Bowling Championships got underway. There is a total purse of $7500 at stake in this Championship divided between Men's singles and doubles, Ladies singles and doubles and mixed teams.

After the first ten games of the scheduled thirty game roll-offs for the Kawartha District representatives, which by the way will consist of eleven men and nine women, three of the four bowlers from this area are holding down qualifying positions.

Steve Barton, trailing by 108 points after five games and floundering in thirteenth position, put together a tremendous surge in the last five to move into third just 92 pins out of first. Steve finished in second position in this Open last year and if he continues to play like he did in the last five games here Sunday will have very little trouble being number one in this area. Steve's home bowling lanes are Fenelon Falls Lanes.

Another fine Fenelon bowler who rolled just a fine ten-game set, is Penny Stewart, who is in fourth spot among the ladies with a 2330 total. These two fine bowlers should be shoo-ins to make the Kawartha team that will participate in the Ontario Finals in Hamilton on February 14, 15 and 16 at Sherwood Lanes.

Two bowlers from Minden and Medley's Bowling Lanes are also participating in these Championships. Cliff Burke holds the final team spot after the first third of the roll-offs, with 2322 pins. A very disappointing showing was turned in by Ron Robinson, Jr., who appeared to be peaking for this event after two fine performances last week in local bowling. Ron had led his team to victory in the Carnarvon-Fenelon Falls Mixed bowling tournament last weekend with a fine 899 triple and then came up with the high triple of the season to date, in the Commercial Men's league on Wednesday evening, a great 953 effort. However, nothing seemed to go right for Ron in Peterborough in the opening round of the Championships. It is still not too late for him to make the Kawartha team, but he'll have to make big strides this coming Sunday in Port Hope where the second round of roll-off action will take place. The last ten games will be back in Peterborough on Sunday, December 15 at Lakeview Lanes. A great deal of credit must go to the Tournament Director, Ed Hillier and his wife Mary, for the splendid way in which the first ten games of this roll-off have gone.

There are fifty people vying for twenty positions and I've never seen a more efficiently or smoothly run tournament.

Monarchs game reports

BY DWIGHT THOMAS

The Monarchs came up with their best performance to date last Friday night, when Elmvale scored in the dying minutes of the game to salvage a 3-3 tie with the home side.

Minden led 2-0 after 1-1/2 periods of play on goals by Doug Ray and Rick Dunsford. Ray's goal came while Minden was shorthanded and was setup on good passes from Mike Easton and 'Suds' McElwain. Less than a minute later, Scotty Larue passed off to Rick Dunsford, who broke through the defence to score and put Minden up 2 goals. Minden's 3rd goal came while Elmvale were playing 2 men short and was scored by Rick Dunsford with an assist going to Mike Jackson.

Elmvale then hosted the Monarchs last Sunday and came up with a 7-2 victory. Scoring for Minden were Scott Morris and Jeff Campbell with Craig Morrison assisting on both goals. Elmvale's second goal was quite controversial as the puck was never in the net. Larry Hartin smothered the loose puck under his pads outside the goal line but after some hesitation the referee and then the goal judge allowed it. If you believe in turning points, then this could certainly be considered as one of the deciding factors in the final outcome. It's not uncommon to hear that Elmvale wins most of its home games and with the poor, biased refereeing observed in this game, much credibility is added to that statement. However, the Monarchs had their chances and could have won as easily as they lost.

The Monarchs next home game is this Friday night as they host the Penetang Garrisons, game time is 8.30 p.m. Then on Sun. Dec. 8, Minden travels to Bradford for an 8.15 start, on Wed., Dec. 11, Penetang hosts Minden and next Friday, Dec. 13 the Monarchs are the visitors in Schomberg with game time set for 8.30 p.m.

Broomball

BY DWIGHT THOMAS

The Minden Broomball League is in full swing once again this year with a full complement of 4 teams. After 4 weeks of play, Alton Movers have 4 wins and no losses for 8 points. The OPP and Horseshoe Lakers have 2 wins and 2 losses for 4 points and a share of second place. The Minden Telestars are in an early season slump and have no wins and 4 losses for last place. It might also be noted that Alton's have only allowed one goal while scoring 22 and are runaway leaders in those departments. On the other end, the Telestars have yet to score a goal while allowing 23, worst in both departments. Some of the biggest surprises to date, is the poor showing of the Telestars, one of last season's stronger teams, and the strong showing of the OPP, who are seemingly tireless and exhibiting remarkable strength. Alton Movers can best be described as awesome. Their scoring finesse is something to behold while their strong defence and goaltending gives them great balance. The Lakers, on the other hand, are starting off much the same as last year, when they had a rather mediocre beginning a strong finish.

All games are played Tuesday night this year, starting at 8.30 p.m. and continuing to 10.30 p.m. Keep these times in mind and come out to the Minden Arena to enjoy a lot of action and a lot of fun.

Next Tuesday, Dec. 10, Horseshoe Lakers play the Minden Telestars at 8.30 p.m., followed by the OPP versus Alton Movers at 9.30 p.m.

Is the weatherman just being spiteful? Here it is December and I haven't been riding yet. I understand some of you got snow this week, but where I live, the ground is quite bare. Ice is forming on the lakes, however, and it just might be that we will get an early start on lake riding this year.

Remember that the experts tell us to wait until there is seven inches of good blue ice. Four inches may carry you across a beaver pond or a shallow stream, but don't get in a rush to try those lakes.

In working up our application for Provincial funding we have discovered that upwards of three hundred miles of overland trails now exist in Haliburton County. This season's project - if approved - will see most of them widened to national standards, marked, and groomed. And, in future seasons it is our hope to provide trails around most of our lakes to give you many more miles of all-season riding.

The latest estimate places the number of resident snowmobilers in the County at 2500 and non-residents who come here to ride at near 4000. To properly serve this many snowmobilers the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association and other clubs in the region, in co-operation with the Ministry of Natural Resources should provide at least 500 miles of maintained and groomed safe trails. Also required, at intervals along the trails, are rest rooms and sheltered cook-out facilities. Judging from the activity and current progress of the H.C.S.A., these will not be too long coming.

The H.C.S.A. entertainment committee has announced the date of the Association's next dance. It is billed as the New Years Snowball and will be held Saturday evening, December 28th, in the Legion at Haliburton. Admission is $5.00 for member couples and $8.00 for non-members.

Along The Trails

Ray and The Rythmaires will provide more of their popular music, and there will be special prizes galore. Come to this one and have fun.

Help to finance trail improvement by buying a ticket on the current 50/50 draw. And you can help even more by renewing your membership and bringing one or more new members in. This year's rate is $5.00. Mail to Box 151, Haliburton.

Plans are shaping up for the February 2nd 100-mile Snow-erama. A meeting is scheduled for this week between Snow-erama's co-ordinator, Susan Brower, the snowmobile clubs and the Rotary. This is a co-operative effort to raise money for Ontario's crippled kids, and it deserves the support of everyone. Watch this space for regular reports as the plan develops.

Members of the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association will attend the open meeting with Directors of the Ontario Federation of Snowmobile Clubs at Pine Lodge in Port Sydney, December 7th. A full report here later.

Don't forget to put your new registration plate on. You can feel better about that expense this year. The Ontario government is spending a million dollars for snowmobile trails!

All snowmobilers using the popular trail leading North across Twelve Mile and Boshkung lakes are asked to note a change in routing between Boshkung and Little Boshkung. The Moore property is closed to snowmobiles. The new route will be marked (as it was last year) near the bridge. This places it quite close to open water. Travel with extreme care and if possible avoid night riding there. At the head of Drag Lake, look for the Tri-Trail markers to the east of the Larry Worden cottage. Too many snowmobilers were using the cottage grounds as a rest stop and leaving too much litter.

At all times be mindful of the rights of others.

LATE FLASH!

Mr. Carl Cowden, snow plan co-ordinator for Ontario, will be in attendance at the HCSA meeting Tuesday, Dec. 17th, at the municipal building, Minden at 8 p.m.

Carl will give a complete rundown on the new activities in the government to provide better snowmobiling and what it will mean in our area.

We are very hopeful of getting Ron Milson also with his slide show of our Quebec trip last March. These are the pictures that helped open eyes in Queen's Park. We will have a confirmation by next week.

You are cordially invited to attend.
